Narratives occur in a space and unfold in time. In narrative art, the artist chooses how to portray the story, represent the space, and how to shape time within the artwork. Narrative art can be categorized into various types, also known as modes or styles. A piece of artwork is not limited to only one type of narrative. An artwork may have a narrative type as a whole, as well as portions of the artwork itself that depict separate types of narratives.

According to Bakhtin (1981c: 250), chronotopes, 'functioning as the primary means for materializing time in space,' emerge as the 'organizing centers for the fundamental narrative events of the novel'--as centers for 'concretizing representation,' as the place where 'the knots of narrative are tied and untied.'

Space, Time and Narrative: Bakhtin and Ricoeur

A narrative is defined by David Bordwell as 'a chain of events in cause-effect relationship occurring in time and space'. Although causality (and time and space) is central to narrative, films may also make use of different principles, such as parallelism , whereby two separate lines of action are intercut in order to allow us to compare and contrast.

'A brilliant contribution to this somewhat cacophonous conversation about time and 'temporality'. . . . Clearly written, philosophically subtle, and metaphorically rich, Narrative and Freedom will become a necessary book for literary scholars anxious to sort out the meaning of time in narrative structures. In an age of entertainment, when a cornucopia of narratives lure people in a thousand ...
