The Christian Soldier. by Alistair Begg. Ephesians 6:10-20 (ID: 1136) Some Christians are uncomfortable with images like "armor" and "battle" being used to describe the Christian life. The Bible, though, is clear: in this world, we should expect struggles, for we have an enemy who does everything possible to separate us from the Lord.

As Christian soldiers in the Army of Christ (the Church), we muster before the world each day on life's parade ground. As the Body of Christ, we should be synchronized, have a coordinated purpose, be unified in our compassion and march gracefully in one direction - moving to the beat of the Holy Spirit's drum.
