~~The Death House - Wikipedia~~

Sarah Pinborough's The Death House is a stunning, powerful, painful, and yes, beautiful, read. The speculative elements are slight, but all the more intriguing for it. The focus is squarely on the main character, Toby, and the sudden turn of events that lands him in the Death House alongside other children who've suffered the same fate.

The Death House is an impressive story about life and death, living in uncertainty, having a terrible inescapable destiny, friendship and love. Even though the Death House is all about the last stage before the sanatorium, it also feels like a regular high school with normal problems like trying to fit in, fights, cliques and forming friendships.
